

VEER ABDUL HAMID

This is the story of a brave soldier named Abdul Hamid. He was a Company Quarter Master Havildar in the Indian Army. He was a very brave soldier. He fought in the 1965 war between India and Pakistan.

Abdul Hamid was born in Dhamupur village of Ghazipur district in Uttar Pradesh on 1st July, 1933 in a muslim family to Sakina Begum and Mohammad Usman.

Would you like to know how he became the hero of the 1965 war between India and Pakistan?

It was the early morning of 10th September 1965, India was fighting against Pakistan. A Pakistani regiment of Patton Tanks was marching on the Bhikhiwind –Amritsar Road, in the Khemkaran sector of India. It had reached a village named Cheema. This village was on the Indo-Pak border. In this sector, the battle had been going on since September 6. Here, Havildar Abdul Hamid and the other soldier of '4 Grenadiers Company' were waiting to face the Pakistani Army. Brave Abdul Hamid was sitting in a jeep. He had a special gun. The Patton Tanks of the Pakistani Army were not very far from him. He could hit the tanks with his guns if he wanted to. He was a good shot but he did not want to waste his shots. He wanted to hit the tanks with each of his shots. The Pakistani tanks were very powerful and dangerous. They were approaching nearer and nearer. They were firing continually. Brave Abdul Hamid marched forward. He saw a Pakistani tank. He turned his gun and fired a shot. The tank caught fire and went up in flames. All the soldiers of Abdul Hamid's company were very happy.

Suddenly he saw another tank. He fired a shot again and it also bursted into flames. Four more tanks were seen. The Pakistanis wanted to attack Abdul Hamid's company and kill him. He was their biggest enemy. They turned the guns of their tanks towards him. Before they could fire, Abdul Hamid hit the third tank too. And there it went! It had caught fire. Flames were rising high up into the sky. But alas! One shell of the enemy hit his jeep. The brave hero fell down. He was deeply wounded yet he did not lose heart. He ordered his soldiers, "Move forward and fight on." They obeyed his orders and fought bravely.

Some more tanks of the enemy were destroyed. The Pakistani soldiers were afraid and fled. This brave soldier of the Indian Army died for his country. He was awarded the Param Vir Chakra posthumously. He will always be revered and remembered by the people of our country as the bravest hero of 1965 war against Pakistan. His village has been named 'Hamid Dham' after his name.
