Kiran Bedi was born on June 9, 1949. Her father Prakash Lal Peshawaria, a landlord in Punjab was determined to educate his four daughters at a time when women were largely limited to doing household tasks.

While studying at the Sacred Heart Convent, Kiran joined the National Cadet Corps (NCC) and took up tennis, a game which her father used to play. After school, she went on to study Political Science at the Government College For Women, Amritsar.

Kiran excelled at sports, particularly tennis. She won the Inter-University women's team title and bagged the national title as well as the Asian title in tennis. Bedi says the game taught her the value of hard work, the importance of staying fit and built in her the qualities of fair play, team work, concentration, and the ability to give in that extra bit under stress. Kiran Bedi was selected for Indian Police Service in 1972 and was the first woman police officer of the Indian Police Service. Spectators at the 1973 Republic Day Parade were amazed to see a lady at the head of the Police Contingent.

King Solomon was famous for his wisdom. The Queen of Sheba wanted to test him. One day she went to the King with two garlands. One of the garlands was made of real flowers. The other one was made of paper flowers. But both the garlands looked exactly alike. She held one garland in each of her hands and stood in front of the King. She said, "O wise King, tell me, without moving from your seat, which one of these two garlands is made of real flowers."

The King looked at each of the two garlands very carefully. They looked very much alike. He could not tell one from the other. When his eyes failed to guide him, the wise King used his brain to solve the problem. A bright idea came to his mind. He ordered one of his servants to open the window overlooking the garden. The servant opened the window. Soon bees came in from the garden and began hovering around the garland in the Queen's right hand.

The King smiled and said, "The bees of my garden tell me that the garland in your right hand is made of real flowers."

Once when Swami Vivekananda was in Chicago, America, he saw some young children trying to shoot egg shells floating in the river, with their toy guns. The children could not hit the bobbing eggshells and missed the target again and again. Seeing Swami Vivekananda watching them, they asked him if he could do better than they.

Swami Vivekananda took the toy gun, saying that he would try. He started firing. He fired twelve times but never missed the mark even once. The children were rather impressed and amazed at his skill. They asked him whether he had practiced before. When Swami Vivekananda replied in the negative, they were keen to know the secret of his success.

Swami Vivekananda smiled and replied that whatever one does, it should be done with complete concentration. We should not think of anything else. "If you are shooting, keep your mind on the target. Your aim will not fail. Concentration can work wonders."

- a) What did Swami Vivekananda observe?
b) How many times did Swami Vivekananda fire?
c) What does the phrase "replied in the negative" mean?

Trees

Trees are the kindest things I know
They do not harm, they simply grow
And spread a shade for sleepy cows,
And gather birds among their boughs.
They give us fruit in leaves above,
And wood to make our houses of,
And leaves to burn on Halloween,
And in the spring new buds of green.
They are first when day's begun
To touch the beams of morning sun,
They are the last to hold the light
When evening changes into night,
And when a moon floats on the sky
They hum a drowsy Lullaby
Of sleepy children long ago.....
Trees are the kindest things I know.

The poet feels that trees are kind enough because they don't (a) _____ anyone. They give (b) _____ to cows and (c) _____ birds in their branches. Trees also serve humans in many ways. They give us (d) _____ that hang in their (e) _____. They also supply (f) _____ for making our houses. Their dry (g) _____ can be used for burning. Trees welcome the (h) _____ of the morning (i) _____ and they are the last to enjoy the (j) _____ of evening. At night, trees hum a lullaby about children. Thus, the poet feels that trees are really kind things.
