

Chapter 4

class 9th english solution THE EYES ARE NOT HERE

A. Let's Answer :

Q.1. Why did the writer ask the man who entered the compartment :

' can you tell me – did she keep her hair long or short ? "What does the man Reply ? What hint does it throw on the similarity of the two the narrator And the girl ?

Ans . The writer had knew through the girl that her face was beautiful. Then the perfume of her hair made him think the detail about her hair.

the man had replied that he couldn't notice her hair. He only noticed her eyes which were beautiful bout no use of her as she was completely blind. It throws on the similarity of the two – the narrator and the girl –that both of them were blind.

Q.2 . How will you describe the experience of the narrator : interesting, Dull or instructive ?Describe a similar experience of your own.

Ans . The narrator's experience is quite interesting. I haven't got a chance to encountersuch a similar experience.

Q.3. Describe the personality of the writer on the basis of the story.

Ans . The Writer was an interesting person. He was a gallant young man. He was eager to now everything about his surrounding. He was of a jolly Nature who loved flattering.

Q.4. Was the girl a lover of natural scenes and situations? Describe the behavior of the girl highlighting what strikes you as odd.

Ans . Yes, the girl was a lover of natural scenes and situations. She became Pleased hearing that the narrator was going to Mussoorie. She had asked the Narrator to look out of the window, so that he may be engaged in natural Scenes and leave him alone. The girl's behavior was interesting. She had a good sense of humour. What strikes me as off is that she also flattered with The narrator saying that he was a very gallant young man – when the fact is that she was complete blind .

Q.5. Why were the girl's beautiful eyes of no use to her ? Attempt a character sketch of the girl.

Ans. The girl's eyes had no light. She was complete blind. So, despite her Beautiful eyes, they were of no use to her. The girl was interesting, intelligent and had good sense of humour. she was of an adjustable nature who could easily mix-up with an unknown stranger.

Q.6. What light does the story throw on human behaviour ?

Ans . The story throws light on the certain human behaviour which is the Following :

Humans always try to hide their weakness. Humans of good eyesight Fail to see what is right in front of them, where man loves to flirt a girl of woman whenever he gets a chance, only few girls can resist flattery. The story also underlines the fact that in journey people love to play games with their travelling companion.

B.Let's Discuss

Q.a. Appearance is dectective.

Ans. Appearance is not always true to be judged. All that glitters are not gold. People are not always like that as they are seen. They have hidden personality within. Many a times we meet or come to know that some persons repute as honest proved to be the most dishonest one . present leaders of our country are best examples to the saying. They appear to be most sincere for people and the society and the country . But we know that they are mostly concerned to raise their own private property. So, it is rightly said that Appearance is deceptive .
